Testimonial

Hayden Burrus has provided actuarial support for my expert witness assignments over the past ten years. He has a unique ability to take reams of numeric information, analyze it from a business perspective, and summarize its meaning and relevance to my assignment in a well thought out, understandable manner.

Most of my assignments involve review of documents gathered during the discovery phase of an insurance related dispute. These documents typically total a few thousand pages and relate to all parts of the insurance business. Some of those documents contain actuarial and financial exhibits, many do not. From time to time, I engage Hayden to review the discovery submission and to prepare insurance, actuarial, and financial analyses of this submission. His particular strength is to relate each point of his analysis to my case in a logical, easy to understand manner.

Hayden has a unique combination of "big picture" understanding, detail-oriented actuarial skill, and easy to understand communication style. This combination of skills provides excellent value for my business.

Based on my above explanation, I fully endorse Hayden Burrus actuarial skills. I know I will be using his skills for many years into the future.

Sincerely,

Bill Hager
